

I just couldn't do without my cats because they keep me company.

They are fun and playful. I think they are the funniest cats in my life.

Gismo is furry, fluffy, and all kinds of colors. Snowball is white, black. That's why I love my cats.

Before I had them, my life was boring. I sat on the couch with no one to play with.

If I had no cats I would be bored and not have anyone to play with. I would be heartbroken.

Without my cats I would have no company. You can't only have people as company, you can have animals too!

~Mallory